

Garrison Says Gerald Didn't Fire at JFK

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York Dist. Atty. James Garrison claimed today Lee Harvey Oswald never did fire a shot at President Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963, but was just a pawn for a paramilitary group responsible for the President's assassination that fateful day.

In an interview with Playboy magazine, Garrison said Kennedy was killed by "a pro-Castro team of at least seven men," all of them foreign employees of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Garrison said the men, whom he described as "anti-Castro adventurers and members of the paramilitary right," plotted against Kennedy because the President "was working toward reconciliation with the U.S. and Castro's Cuba."

Harvey Oswald was involved in the conspiracy, Garrison said, but fired no shots at President.

The controversial district attorney also claims that he and the CIA know the identity of the real assassins.

Asked specifically if the person he has under suspicion will be arrested, Garrison said: "All I can say is that this is an ongoing case and there will be arrests."
